NO. 18

THREE MORE ARRESTED.

Taken at Sullivan, Ind., in Spite of Politics and Unionism and Threats of the Mob.

ON INDICTMENT FOR THE COFFEE MURDER.

Five Men Now in Custody on Charge of Complicity in This Killing.

DETERMINED WORK OF
KENTUCKY OFFICERS.

Union Men at Evansville Depot Try to Make Trouble.

Burrell Wiley, John Woodruff and Francis Drake are the latest arrests in the Coffee murder case. They were arrested twice at Sullivan, Ind., and after a legal fight were surrendered to Kentucky authorities upon Gov. Beckham's requisition and landed in the Hopkinsville jail Monday night.

This makes five men now in jail upon indictment for complicity in the Coffee killing. The two previously arrested are Guy Reynolds and Jim Will Anderson. Reynolds was arrested several weeks ago in Illinois and consented to come to Kentucky without a requisition. Anderson was previously captured at his home. A motion for bail in Anderson's case was granted in the Christian circuit court and the amount fixed at $2,500, which Anderson could not give.

There has been mixed with the arrest of these three men enough of local Indiana politics to defeat the purpose of the Christian court warrant and the Governor's requisition, although the requisition had received the sanction of Gov. Durbin of Indiana.

In fact, the Sheriff of Sullivan county did release the prisoners upon his own motion on Sunday afternoon, April 20, after they had been arrested by T. J. Harlan the evening before. One of the three had a big gun on him when he was first arrested and started after it, but was quietly convinced he had best not draw.

In these arrests two were nipped in a large crowd around a street medicine fakir and hustled to jail without stir. The officers then hurried to the home of the third man and, as they walked in, a courier was knocking at the door to warn the bird to fly. But he was too late and the arrest was made without trouble.

After being released next day the three men remained at Sullivan, secure in the belief that their union and political friends would not permit of their being taken to Kentucky and themselves openly declared they would not be arrested. There was talk of jail delivery and mobs to rescue them if the officers representing the State of Kentucky should really secure the custody of the fugitives.

The second arrest of these men was made through the instrumentality of Jno. B. Harlan, who represented the State of Kentucky and persuaded the Sheriff to land the men in the most peaceful manner. At that time the Circuit Judge inspected and signed the requisition papers but, after he had taken Mr. Harlan's receipt for the prisoners and the latter had a wagon ready to convey them to the train, the Judge declined to deliver them up upon the ground that "habeas corpus action was then pending before him."

The case was set for Monday and Mr. J. B. Harlan, with T. J. H. H. and Horace Harlan, Hugh Wright, Peol Porter and Jno. T. Barnett went Sunday to Sullivan to be present at the trial Monday and bring the prisoners to Kentucky.

In this case, as in many cases previously against union men since the efforts began to unionize the Hopkins county mining district, those arrests and the execution of the court's orders were made difficult by the introduction of local politics. Even candidates for Congress were mixed up in the matter.

There is a campaign on in Indiana and there was a big political gathering Monday at Sullivan, which is a union miners' stronghold, and although many threats had been made, the determined Kentucky officers got out with their prisoners without trouble.

There was a dense crowd of several hundred sympathizers about the approach to the jail when J. B. Harlan, with his posse of seven determined men, drove up and stopped at the pavement. They parted the crowd and went to the jail, smilingly disregarding the insults and foul epithets which the mob uttered. Handcuffing the three prisoners they came back through the crowd and drove to the depot, where a thousand people were congregated. Here something of the experience about the jail was repeated. Serious trouble threatened but the officers' nerve and good humored exterior turned it aside.

At Evansville, while the party waited in the E. & T. H. depot for the train for Kentucky, a party of union men came in to see the prisoners. The officers withdrew a short distance and gave them a chance to talk, but some were not satisfied with this and began to talk roughly and insult the officers in charge. The latter disregarded the insults but called the attention of a waiting policeman, who had previously offered to clear the depot. He suggested the lock-up as a remedy for the repetition of the offense and the sympathizers grew serenely quiet and left.

POETRY BY COLLABORATION.

Editor Helps a Fair Writer Out With a Few Rhymes.

"If you please, sir," said the young lady, timidly, as the exchange editor handed her a chair, "I have composed a few verses, or practically composed them, and I thought you might help me finish and then print them. Ma says they are real nice as far as they go, and Pa takes the Eagle every day."

She was a handsome creature, with beautiful blue eyes, and a crowning glory as large as golden rods. There was an expectant look on her face, a hopefulness that appealed to the holiest emotions, and the exchange editor made up his mind not to crush the longing of that pure heart if he never struck another lick.

"May I show you the poetry?" continued the ripe, red mouth. "You will see that I couldn't get the last line of the verses, and if you would please be so kind as to help me—"

Help her! Though he had never even read a line of poetry, the exchange editor felt the spirit of the divine art flood his soul, as he yielded to the bewildering music. Help her? Well, he should smile.

"The first verse runs like this," she went on, taking courage from his eyes:

How softly sweet the autumn air
The dying woodland fills.
And nature turns from restful care—
"To anti-billions pills," added the exchange editor, with a jerk.

"Just the thing. It rhymes with it so. You take anybody, now. Half the people you meet are—"
"I suppose you know best," interrupted the young girl. "I hadn't thought of it in that way, but you have a better idea of such things."

"Now, the second verse is more like this:

The dove-eyed kine upon the moor
Looks tender, meek and sad;
While from the valley comes the roar
"Of the matchless liver pad," roared the exchange editor.

"There you get it. That finishes the second so as to match with the first. It combines the fashions with poetry and carries the idea right home to the fire-side. If I only had your ability for starting verse, with my genius in winding it up, I'd quit the shears and open up in the poetry business tomorrow."

"Think so?" asked the fair young lady. "It don't strike me as keeping up the theme."
"You don't want to. You want to break the theme here and there. The reader likes it better. Oh, yes! Where you keep up the theme it grows monotonous."

"Perhaps that's so," rejoined the beauty, brightening up. "I didn't think of that. Now I'll read the third verse."

How sadly droops the dying day,
As night springs from the elen,
And moaning twilight seems to say—
"The old man's drunk again," wouldn't do, would it?" asked the exchange editor.

"Somebody else wrote that, and we might be accused of plagiarism. We must have the thing original. Suppose we say—now just suppose we say: 'Why did I spout my ben?'"
"Is that new?" inquired the sweet, rosy lips. "At least, I never heard it before. I don't know what it means."

"New! 'Deed it's new. Ben is the name for overcoat, and spout means to hock. 'Why did I shove my toper?' That's just what twilight would think of first, you know. Oh, don't be afraid—that's just immense!"
"Well, I'll leave it to you," said the glorious girl, with a smile that pinned the exchange editor's heart to his spine. "This is the fourth verse:

The merry milkmaid's somber song
Re-echoes from the rocks.
As silently she trips along—
"With holes in both her socks," by jove!" cried the delighted exchange editor. You see—"

Snip, snip, snip. Paste, paste, paste. But it is with a saddened heart that he snips and pastes among his exchanges now. The beautiful vision that for a moment dawned upon him has left but the recollection in his heart of one sunbeam in his life, quenched by the shower of tears with which she denounced him as a "brute," and went out from him forever.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Few men know enough about marrying not to.

A "smart" gown consists of one part dress and ninety-nine parts of trimming, lace and fixings.

It is hard for a girl to have any respect for a man who kisses her hands when she has a pair of rosy lips.

The frightful thing about the woman who lies is that when she does it she actually believes she is telling the truth.

DOWN IN THE MINES.

Foreman Toombs says that work on the new shaft at No. 11 mine has so far progressed that coal will be hoisted from there this week. A test of the hoisting engine last Saturday resulted successfully. Those in a position to know say that for mechanism the new work there can not be excelled.

Author Barnett, of the St. Bernard Coke department of labor, found time last Saturday to cast a hook into the lake and was rewarded by a catch of a fine three and a half pound fish.

For years past although many others have put in bids, the St. Bernard Co., have captured the contract with the city of Nashville for coal. A contract for next year was closed last week. The Nashville American while speaking on this subject takes a thrust at Mr. Baxter of the new railroad, built mostly on paper in that state thus far, by saying that the new company when on their bended knees asking Nashville to vote a large sum of money in their favor promised among other things that the sum of $5,000 per year would be saved in the coal bill alone and yet the same company comes forward with a bid far higher than their successful competitor. Said company controlled by Baxter claim to have large interests in coal mines in Tennessee, still with the haulage power under their control, they cannot furnish coal as cheap as the companies who pay regular freight rates.

Rufus Clark and other St. Bernard miners will attend court at Dixon next week as witnesses in an important case.

If as claimed by the U. M. W., they came only on a peaceful mission and that their aim is to make men better. How is it when ever they get a foothold in a community that religious affairs become disturbed. A leading church member residing at Mortons informs us that once prosperous churches at that place have become disrupted through the influence for evil exerted by said unions. As a matter of course the union believe in acts of violence and unlawfulness, such as has taken place, since their advent into this county. Neither christian or civil government could stand if under their control. The same spirit of rule or ruin that cause mines to shut down when they have the power in their hands. Also close the church doors and the worship of God by them becomes a secondary matter.

One by one are the assassins of officer Coffey being captured. Last week three more suspects were arrested in an adjoining state. The determined search made for these scoundrels show conclusively that the mine operators for whom he made an efficient officer will use every lawful means to bring the guilty parties to the bar of justice.

One of the deluded beings claiming membership with the U. M. W., says he notices a great falling off in the shipment of coal south. Indicating a partial success he thought on the part of the union in crippling the mines of this county. The truth is if we are not mistaken this fellow since joining the union has been compelled to move where he could find a house, and that being miles away from the track, he fails to see the many double headers south bound pulling nearly solid trains of coal.

The consensus of opinion is that the Central City end of the Mine Workers are only making a big bluff when they say they will strike unless demands of increase is granted by the coal companies. One fellow is expressing himself, says the gang will go to Louisville and after parleying awhile will take a few drinks and come home and go to work at the old scale, and make loud boasts of another victory won.

Rumor says that quite an additional number of idle miners are coming in from other states, most of whom once worked in Hopkins county mines and who evidently feel it their duty to come back once a year and be counted thereby giving the organization some signs of strength numerically speaking when they make a call for their yearly provisions. The agitators are constantly making the chain of their strength here and they must keep it up when roll call comes around once a year.

John Salmon, of the Crabtree mines was over last Sunday and reports all peaceable over there. Miners well satisfied and happy plenty of work and good pay.

Thousands of dollars was again distributed among the St. Bernard Co's., employees on pay day last week. It is the assurance of these monthly settlements that has so endeared the company to their employees and makes the labor or rather false statements of the agitators of no avail.

When the law forces men to comply with contracts entered into at all points or else suffer the damages. Why can't the U. M. W., be made to fulfill a positive contract made with a member agreeing to support or furnish the necessary work where by he can gain a livelihood.

A company has formed at Paducah to open and develop lead ore mines near that place. Twelve thousand acres of coal lands has recently been purchased in Tennessee by a firm composed of New York and Philadelphia capitalists.

To develop mineral and timber lands a new company has lately been formed at Lexington with a capital stock of $25,000.

The production of coal in France in 1901 was 31,613,636 tons, a decrease of 1,108,526 tons from 1900; of pig iron 2,400,240 tons, a decrease of 314,058 tons; of iron rails, commercial iron and sheet iron 554,300 tons, a decrease of 153,965 tons; of steel 1,151,170 tons, a decrease of 75,397 tons.

One of the newly elected Board Members of the U. M. W. claim to be in hard luck. His pay has been stopped and it looks as if he would have to go to work—actually work for a living. He reports that organizers are not allowed by Judge Evans to run about. Another brother appealed to a benevolent citizen of Crabtree for help on a recent Sunday, claiming that his family was starving and he must have help. The said benevolent citizen was liberal and furnished the poor brother with food and followed it up next day, Monday, with more provision. Before night this recipient of charity from the hands of a "sabb" was endeavoring to get men to quit work at the Crabtree mines and join the starved out Boxtown lodge of U. M. W's. That benevolent citizen knows more now than he once did.

The 2000 striking coal miners of Michigan propose to have a good share of the "Strike fund." The Kentucky "strikers" got all of it last year, but will now have to divide up.

Seey, Kenedy, of Indiana, writes "we have heard nothing from Kentucky during the past week and can only hope that the situation of the miners are improving." With the capture of three of the accused murders of Sheriff Coffey at Sullivan, Ind., the said secretary will know that justice is at last getting in its work in Kentucky, and that armed camps of outlaws established in Hopkins county and supported by contributions of his Indiana brothers of the U. M. W., cannot send out bands of assassins with impunity, to commit murder.

Blakey and Wells, two brothers who never fail to draw salaries, tell the various locals that home members of the brotherhood must now do the work of organizing scabs, else supplies will stop. In fact it is said in reliable quarters that supplies hereabouts will be quite short until certain rent bills are paid.

No report of contribution to the needy from well paid Barnaby, Campbell, Blakey & Co., have been reported, nor have the saloons and other favorite resorts that consumed much of the $155,000 spent last year, been heard from in contributions to the needy U. M. W's.

UNION OF STREET FAKIRS TO RESIST LEGISLATION.

Organization Proposed Under a Federation of Labor Charter—Many Recognized Customs Would be Reversed.

(Chicago Tribune.)

Street Fakir's Union No. 1 may become the latest addition to the Federation of Labor if the Executive board of that organization grants the request of one of Chicago's curbside merchants. An application has been made for permission to form such a union, designed to prevent "detrimental legislation" on the part of the city.

It is planned to include the "hoestricks and collar buttons" man, the man who swallows fire and sells "38-carat gold watches" at the same time, the "scoop" man, and the man who sells the dancing monkey and the toy dogs. Among the charter members will be the fakir who sells ointment guaranteed to cure both man and horse, as well as the man who sells tooth powder at 10 cents a package, "each package containing a $5 bill."

If the union is formed all the regulations of the Federation of Labor will be adopted, together with various rules to be framed specially for the fakirs. Of course the union label must be on everything.

In case of a walkout the street fakir must walk in. In case of a lockout he must break in. Walking delegates will not be employed by the union. Stauding delegates will take their places and the fakirs must walk up to them. A limitation will be placed on the number of hours any one fakir may stand on any one corner.

It will be illegal for a "hoestricks" man to attempt to swallow fire or deal in dancing monkeys, and the "scoop" man found hawking towels with soap will be expelled from the union. On labor day each fakir will be expected to gather up his wares and take his place in the parade.

LIFE SENTENCE

John Eggle Goes Up for Murder in Providence Battle Case.

WEBSTER COUNTY JURY TAKES PROMPT ACTION.

Lon Johnson Gets One Year for Shooting at Non-Union Men on the Road.

Retribution Following the Recent Anarchy and Rioting of Unionists.

Yesterday a Webster county jury passed a life sentence upon John Eggle, one of the two negroes who were captured at Uniontown with three long-range rifles in their possession shortly after the Providence battle of 1901, when a mob of armed unionists attacked the Providence miners in the early morning of a Sunday.

Both men were indicted for murder. Both escaped but Eggle was recaptured in a few hours. The other negro was rearrested some time after by an officer at Uniontown but was taken from the officer by a mob of union miners at Uniontown and has never been recaptured. J. D. Wood, former district president of the United Mine Workers' union, and Kit Barnaby, the present president of that organization, are both under indictment for complicity in the murder committed at Providence in that same attack. Both are under bond and their cases are set for the July term of Webster circuit court.

Lon Johnson, another negro, who took part in an attack on the highway upon several non-union men employed by the Providence Coal Company, early last year, confessed guilt and asked the mercy of the court. He was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

KILLED BY A TRAIN.

Bone Townsend, of Allensville, Ky., Struck by the Same Engine that Crushed Another Negro the Week Before.

In a short distance of the Louisville & Nashville railroad cattle guard on which John Rickman was crushed to death the preceding Sunday, Bone Townsend, an Empire miner, was killed yesterday morning by the same train.

About seven o'clock, trainmen on a freight discovered by the side of the track the mangled body of a colored man about one and one-half miles south of the city. His skull had been mashed and his brains scattered along the rail and his left foot had been cut off. He had evidently been killed instantly.

Coroner Allensworth was summoned and the body of the unfortunate negro was still warm when the inquest was held. No witness to the accident appeared. The verdict of the jury was that the man was killed by being struck by a train, presumably No. 92, the Chicago limited.

LOCOMOTIVE BLASTS

Information has been received at Bowling Green that several important changes among the officials will take effect May 1st. It is reported that Superintendent Daniel Brock, of the Louisville division, is to be promoted to the position of superintendent of terminals at St. Louis, and will be succeeded by E. E. Snyder, who is at present superintendent of the Memphis Division. Mr. Snyder, it is said, will be succeeded by F. N. Fisher, master of trains at Paris. It has not been learned who will take Mr. Fisher's place.

Trainmaster W. F. Sheridan and Chief Dispatcher E. L. Wise have been over the division with the Nickel Plate show. This is a part of their railroad life they thoroughly enjoy.

It is thought No. 92 struck and killed a negro boy near Hopkinsville last Sunday.

Operator Shirley of Hopkinsville has been to New Orleans on a pleasure trip.

Operator Rowland is now working at Nortonville.

Operator Prather of Ridge Top went to Slaughter's Sunday to see his best girl.

Opp. Elliott it is reported will in the near future cease his weekly trips to Morton's Gap. The lady in question will be transferred to Earllington.

There was a small wash out near Sadler's station on account of the heavy rains that fell in that section. Trains were delayed to some extent, but no material damage was done.

The following class of aspiring engineers were in train master Sheridan office Monday filling out form 71. They have already successfully passed the Russellville examination and if successful here will be given engines. Chas. Foote, Frank Harrison, Frank Joest, Leo Beall and J. L. Sparks.

Diaper's Jim, Devening and J. T. Featherston have been fishing several times this spring, but they did not catch enough fish to glut the market.

Engr. Boxley paid THE BEE office a pleasant call Monday and paid his subscription. We would like to see more calls of this kind and are never to busy to entertain our visitors.

If any of the railroad boys know anything they would like to see in print or any news item concerning the road or men employed we would be glad to have them give us the news either personally or over the telephone. We cannot collect all the news unless you co-operated with us along this line.

Supervisor Edmondson contemplates a fishing trip to Green river this year. We hope he will be more successful than he was on the last fishing trip.

A soldier train composed of one coach and ten cars of cavalry horses on the way from Cuba to New York passed over the Henderson Division Monday. The horses looked fat and sleek, but the boys were thin in order and yellow.

Lat and mid 52 were over four hours late on Monday account of the wash out near Sadler's Tenn.

OLD FIDDLER'S CONTEST.

Thirty or More Old Time Bow Scrapers Expected to Take Part.

AT TEMPLE THEATRE, MAY 8th.

An old time fiddlers' contest is to take place in Earllington as nothing else would. Come to Temple theatre Tuesday night, May 8, and bring your wife.

If you have no wife, bring your girl, and if you have no girl, get one. Come and listen to the southern strains of "Billie in the Low Ground," "Sugar in the Gourd," "Jennie, Put the Kettle On," and other old time tunes that we used to listen to in the log cabins of Kentucky and Tennessee years ago, when we thought nothing of riding fifteen or twenty miles on a cold winter night to a dance, wrapped in a horse blanket.

This contest, as will be remembered, was killed for last January, but owing to a four inch fall of snow and sleet it was postponed. We wish to assure the public, however, that nothing short of a repetition of this weather will prevent the contest from coming off as advertised. Admission, popular prices. Ladies over 80 years of age free. As this fiddlers contest is for the benefit of our public school, let every one that can possibly do so COME.

The Massachusetts judges who decided that a Wall street margin is a wiper would undoubtedly call a spade a spade.

LAST YEAR'S SCALE

In Force Again With Insignificant Changes Made Yesterday.

THREE DAYS OF CONFERENCE.

Central City, Ky., April 30.—Special.—The adjourned conference of union miners and operators employing union labor in Western Kentucky met here Monday at 2 o'clock and at 3:30, upon motion of Secretary Campbell, for the miners' union, adjournment was had until Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock in order to allow them time to consider the positive position held by the operators. The operators stated their case in a very few words, simply saying they had made the best offer they were capable of making, that conditions of the market would not permit of any advance, and that they had considered the matter at three or four different special meetings called for that purpose and had concluded it was impossible for them to make any advance over their scale of last year.

J. D. Woods, for the miners, answered positively that they would not accept last year's scale, and this statement was applauded by the miners present. The operators notified the miners that if this was their final decision they might as well separate, but Secretary Campbell moved to adjourn for further consideration on part of the miners.

The last year's scale of wages was signed yesterday, with slight exceptions which do not increase the payroll of most of the companies signing, and which only act as a slight salve to the union leaders, whose business it is to fight for "concessions" and then claim a victory. One of these changes is advancing the minimum outside mine labor from $1.28 to $1.42, when in fact scarcely a $1.28 mine laborer could be found. The only other change is a slight advance to an occasional driver when he happens to be working under certain peculiar and unusual conditions. Only a very few men in the entire district can be affected by this change.

SURRENDERS LEASE.

W. E. Booth's Health Poor and He Releases Carbondale Mine Property.

WILL BE RUN BY THE COMPANY.

W. E. Booth, who has operated the Carbondale mine property for several years, yesterday surrendered his lease and turned the property over to the owners, the Carbondale Coal Company, who will continue to operate the mine without interruption and with the same force and under the same policy as before. Mr. L. Hovdon, of Hopkinsville, will be located at the mine as general manager.

L. & N. Management.

August Belmont in a letter to Dr. Cooke says there will be no change whatever in management.

In reply to a letter from Dr. John F. Cooke, of Smith's Grove, Warren Co., in which Dr. Cooke "regretted the contemplated change in the management of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad," August Belmont, Chairman of the Board of that railroad, wrote the following letter:

"New York, April 21, 1902.—Dr. John F. Cooke, Smith's Grove, Ky.—Dear Sir: I have received your letter of April 10, and thank you very much for the kind expressions contained therein. There is no change contemplated in the management of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad.

"Believe me, yours truly, (Signed) "August Belmont."

There will be a musical festival at Temple Theatre, Tuesday, May 14th, composed of Earlington talent under the management of Prof. R. G. Cox, of Madisonville. Mr. Godding the famous comedian who was in "The Ministers Son" company will be present with his humor songs and impersonations. The Madisonville Orchestra will add greatly to the evenings enjoyment and a good time is anticipated. Temple Theatre should be full next Tuesday night and see what the musical talent of Earlington can do.

The beautiful four act comedy "A Soldiers Sweetheart" was presented under an attractive and appreciative audience Tuesday night at Temple Theatre under the management of F. L. Godding.

The company were all Madisonville talent and each one played their part as if they had faced the footlights for years. The audience were surprised and delighted and each act brought forth prolonged and enthusiastic applause. Owing to the fact that this play was not thoroughly advertised, there was not as large crowd as there would have been otherwise, however the house was moderately full and those present were delighted with the entertainment. Mr. Godding and the members of the company are to be congratulated. They were far superior to a great many of the companies who played the same play the past season, and we trust we may have the pleasure of seeing them in another role.

The officers of the white lead mine at the Joplin mine shop, and the buildings on the Plymouth River mine, the Blackburn mine and the Cumberland Lead and Zinc Co.'s mine were destroyed. Albert Kreis' mine suffered heavy damage, and the American Concentrating Co.'s mill was badly damaged. St. John's hospital was damaged to the extent of $1,000; the Mineral Bell Telephone Co. suffered a loss of $2,000 in poles and wires. Bell Telephone Co., $1,000; Stevens' hotel, $2,000; and the Boonevelt flats and the Joplin Gas Co.'s plant were badly damaged. The houses of John Winburne and Walter Chapman were blown completely away, but the families escaped. At least fifty families are homeless.

CASE OF FUGITIVE KRATZ.

The State Department in Correspondence With the Mexican Government.

A POLITE SUGGESTION FROM MEXICO.

Might Surrender the Fugitive St. Louisian That Day On the Understanding That the United States Government Will Reciprocate—An Embarrassing Condition.

Washington, April 25.—The state department has had some correspondence with the government of Mexico respecting the case of ex-Senator Kratz, who is a fugitive from justice from St. Louis, charged with bribery.

The name of the department's instance, has been arrested, and is locked up at Guadalajara, but as the offense with which he is charged is not one of the offenses named in the treaty as subject to extradition, the department has been trying to procure his delivery to the Missouri authorities as a matter of comity.

A considerable obstacle has been encountered in the shape of a polite suggestion of the Mexican authorities that they will do this, but only on the understanding that the United States government will reciprocate in kind when occasion arises. This is an embarrassing condition, impossible of fulfillment, for no American court could deliver a fugitive from Mexican justice if his offense is not set out in the extradition treaty. It is thought that the effort will be made to secure the punishment of Kratz by Mexican courts if he can not be returned to Missouri.

Unless your committee on foreign relations can give us relief through reciprocal concessions, placing our mills on equal basis with foreign mills, many of our mills will shut down indefinitely and some of them will be forced to the wall. In our distress we look to our senators for relief."

The telegram was referred to the committee on foreign relations.

SGROFULA AND ITS AWFUL HORRORS

Johnston's Sarsaparilla
QUART BOTTLES.
A MOST WONDERFUL CURE.

A Great Old Lady Gives Her Experience.
Mrs. Thankful Orilla Hurd lives in the beautiful village of Brighton, Livingston Co., Mich. This venerable and highly respected lady was born in the year 1812, the year of the great war, in Helderberg, Washington Co., New York. She came to Michigan in 1840, the year of "Tippecanoe" and "Tyler too." All her faculties are excellently preserved, and possessing a very retentive memory, her mind is full of interesting reminiscences of her early life, of the early days of the State of Michigan and the interesting and remarkable people she has met, and the stirring events of which she was a witness. But nothing in her varied and manifold recollections are more marvellous and worthy of attention than her experiences in the use of JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA. Mrs. Hurd inherited a tendency and predisposition to scrofula, that terribly destructive blood taint which has cursed and is cursing the lives of thousands and marking thousands more as victims of the death angel. Transmitted from generation to generation, it is found in nearly every family in one form or another. It may make its appearance in dreadful running sores, in unsightly swellings in the neck or joints, or in eruptions of varied forms. Attacking the mucous membrane, it may be known as catarrh in the head, or developing in the lungs it may be, and often is, the prime cause of consumption.

Speaking of her case, Mrs. Hurd says: "I was troubled for many years with a bad skin disease. My arms and limbs would break out in a mass of sores, discharging yellow matter. My neck began to swell and became very unsightly in appearance. My hair began to cover my forehead with scurf. My eyes were also greatly inflamed and weakened, and they pained me very much. My blood was in a very bad condition and my head ached severely at frequent intervals, and I had no appetite. I had sores also in my ears. I was in a miserable condition, I had tried every remedy that had been recommended, and doctor after doctor had failed. One of the best physicians in the state told me I must die of scrofulous consumption, as internal abscesses were beginning to form. I at length was told of Dr. Johnston, of Detroit, and his famous Sarsaparilla. I tried a bottle, more as an experiment than anything else, as I had no faith in it, and greatly to my agreeable surprise, it began to grow better. You can be sure I kept on taking it. I took a great many bottles. But I steadily improved until I became entirely well. All the sores healed up, all the bad symptoms disappeared. I gained perfect health, and I have never been troubled with scrofula since. Of course an old lady of 83 years is not a young woman, but I have had remarkably good health since then, and I firmly believe that JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA is the greatest blood purifier and the best medicine in the world, both for scrofula and as a spring medicine." This remarkably interesting old lady did not like to be known that aly, and she remained several times. "I believe my life was saved by JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA."

Valuation.
The old "Squire" said as he stood by his gate,
And his neighbor, the Deacon, went by,
"In spite of my bank stock and real estate,
You are better off, Deacon, than I.
We're both growing old and the end's drawing near;
You have less of this world to resign.
But in Heaven's appraisal, your assets, I fear,
Will reckon up greater than mine.
They say I am rich, but I'm feeling so poor,
Twish I could swap with you even;
The pounds I have lived for and laid up in store
For the shillings and pence you have given."
"Well, 'Squire," said the Deacon, with shrewd common sense,
While his eyes had a twinkle of fun,
"Let your pounds take the way of my shillings and pence,
And the thing can be easily done."

King Oscar, of Norway and Sweden, has directed that no champagne may be used hereafter in the christening of battle-ships, an example most worthy to be followed by other professed Christian nations.

The fact has just been brought to light that George Alphonso Tyrell, only four years of age, and living in the city of Cleveland, is a confirmed drunkard, made so by the practice of treating him to make him drunk, tho' only a babe, for the amusement of fiends incarnate bearing the human form.

In Chicago, on the evening of April 18th, a drunken father by the name of James Balek, held the feet of his three-months old baby on a red-hot stove, until a woman hearing the child's awful screams, rushed into the room and beat him with a whitewash brush until he was forced to desist.

When the case came up in court the next day, his wife who is only 23 years old, testified that he came home drunk and began to beat her. She carried the baby into another room, when he took after with a butcher knife, declaring he would kill her and their three children.

She rushed from the room with one of the children and then he grabbed the baby and made for the stove. He was sentenced to seven months in the workhouse and to pay a fine of $225 and costs which necessitate a stay of three years in the workhouse. No one will claim that his punishment is too severe, but now the question arises as to what is to become of his family in the meantime. Will the liquor dealer who sold him the poison that fired his brain to commit such awful deeds, contribute anything to the support of the family. No, such a question is a foolish one. Saloon men do not contribute to the needs of families whom they have despoiled.

The strongest characteristic of a saloon keeper is selfishness. He cares for no man's family but his own, otherwise he would not be in the business.

The New Voice in commenting on this says: "You have fought like a tiger when they tried to open a saloon near your own house; you have talked and prayed in Sunday School and in prayer meeting. There is just one day in the year when the liquor traffic really cares what the Christian says and that is election day."

What Some of the Reformers in Chicago Say of the Saloon.

Miss Mary J. Everhart is superintendent of the Olive Branch Mission at 65 Halsted street. She is also director of one of the homes for unfortunate women on the West side. Her experience in rescue work covers a period of 12 years, during which time she has been exceptionally successful. Miss Everhart declares that in all these years there has never been a moment in which she could forget that the one all-powerful agency for the wrecking of lives she has consecrated her own to save, has been and is today, the saloon.

The Ewing Street Congregational Church, near Blue Island Avenue, is almost the only Protestant Church in that part of the Nineteenth ward, and is in the same block with the noted Hull House. The pastor is the Rev. Mr. Meeker, a graduate of Bucknell University, and very earnestly interested in the improvement of the community over which he is the spiritual head. He has been the pastor of this church a little over two years, yet in this short time he has most keenly been made to realize the terrible results of the liquor traffic. His little church has been very active in practical reforms, yet the pastor unabashedly says that the overwhelming obstacle with which they have to contend is the legalized saloon.

The Rev. G. W. Grady, D. D., is the general superintendent of the work known as the Forward Movement, a chartered social settlement at 395 West Van Buren street. Dr. Gray has been in the most active and practical social rescue work for upwards of nine years in this section of "darkest Chicago." His observations and experiences would fill volumes on the vital problems of human life. It is his deliberate opinion that the one overwhelming influence in this section of the city is the ginmill.

The Frances Willard Settlement, kindergarten and day-nursery is at the corner of Adams and Morgan streets, and is under the direct supervision of the Chicago Central W. C. T. U. The matron for the past three years has been Miss Bowen. The kindergarten is the most prominent feature of this work. All the little ones are the children of working-women who bring them early in the morning and return for them after a day's work of scrubbing or office work as the case may be. The matron knows every mother personally and frequently visits them in their homes. They are mostly young women whose husbands are "missing" or vagrants. In nine cases out of ten these men have fallen through drink and in more than one instance the mother is a partial slave to the appetite, and comes for her children with her breath polluted with the fumes of alcohol.

It is most lamentable that this kindergarten cannot begin to respond to calls made upon it. A fee of five or ten cents is charged with which to buy the lunch at noon, but even then many have to be turned away for lack of room. Miss Bowen says that the liquor traffic is the one great cause of the need of the work of the Settlement.

The Saloon and the Negro.

Bishop A. G. Haywood, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, says: "In the southern states of the Union the saloon has a rare opportunity for its evil work, and it has made the most of it. Emancipation brought great blessings to both races, but it also brought new responsibilities and new dangers. The Negro race in slavery was a sober

DAN GROSVENOR SAYS.

"Peruna is an Excellent Spring Catarrh Remedy---I am as Well as Ever."

HON. DAN A. GROSVENOR, OF THE FAMOUS OHIO FAMILY.

Hon. Dan A. Grosvenor, Deputy Auditor for the War Department, in a letter written from Washington, D. C., says:

"Allow me to express my gratitude to you for the benefit derived from one bottle of Peruna. One week has brought wonderful changes and I am now as well as ever. Besides being one of the very best spring tonics it is an excellent catarrh remedy."

DAN A. GROSVENOR.

In a recent letter he says:

"I consider Peruna really more meritorious than I did when I wrote you last. I receive numerous letters from acquaintances all over the country asking me if my certificate is genuine. I invariably answer, yes."--Dan A. Grosvenor.

A County Commissioner's Letter.

Hon. John Williams, County Commissioner of 417 West Second street, Duluth, Minn., says the following in regard to Peruna:

"As a remedy for catarrh I can cheerfully recommend Peruna. I know what it is to suffer from that terrible disease and I feel that it is my duty to speak a good word for the tonic that brought me immediate relief. Peruna cured me of a bad case of catarrh and I know it will cure any other sufferer from that disease."--John Williams.

Miss Mattie L. Gaid, President Illinois Young People's Christian Temperance Union, in a recent letter from Chicago, Ill., says:

sance.

As a rule under the old regime they could not get intoxicated, for then prohibition was enforced. Emancipation opened the saloons to them. The lifelong restraint seemed to make them eager to exercise their freedom in buying whiskey. Of the lower order of saloons in the southern states, the Negroes are steady customers. They buy cheap liquors, and, therefore, the worst. The mass of them are very poor, and drinking keeps them poor. They are ignorant and easily imposed upon. The saloonist knows their weaknesses and uses them for his own ends; he is master again. As a rule, the saloons may count on the solid support of the uneducated colored vote, while the uneducated white vote may as well be given to them also.

Forest Fire North of Hecla.

Friday afternoon the timber on Fort Ridge caught on fire and the flames were driven by the high winds until the Ridge was a solid sheet of fire. Trees were blacked and burned in a remarkable short time. W. S. Cory and a number of others attempted to extinguish the fire, but owing to the wind it was impossible to do so. They fought the fire until over come with heat and exhaustion and had about given up in despair when the rain set in and they gladly left the two elements of nature to contend with each other, knowing the water would soon conquer the fire.

Will Cure Consumption.

A. A. Herren, Finch, Ark., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best preparation for coughs, colds and lung trouble. I know that it has cured consumption in the first stage."

Sold by John N. Taylor.

"I doubt if Peruna has a rival in all the remedies recommended to-day for catarrh of the system. A remedy that will cure catarrh of the stomach will cure the same condition of the mucous membrane anywhere. I have found it the best remedy I have ever tried for catarrh, and believing it worthy my endorsement I gladly accord it--Mattie L. Gaid.

A Congressman's Letter.

Hon. W. P. Brownlow, Congressman from Tennessee, writes from Washington, D. C., the following:

"I have suffered from catarrh of the stomach for several years, and for the past twelve months was in an exceedingly critical condition. My attention was called to your Peruna, and I began to use it, and my improvement was noticeable after the first twelve days. I have taken three bottles of the medicine and I feel satisfied that I am now almost, if not permanently, cured. In connection with the Peruna, I have used your Manalin for biliousness and torpid liver. I regard it as the best medicine for this purpose that I have ever used. Having been benefited so much myself, I give you this statement, that others may be likewise benefited."--W. P. Brownlow, M. C., Jonesboro, Tenn.

Mrs. Elmer Fleming, orator of Reservoir Council No. 168, Northwestern Legion of Honor, of Minneapolis, Minn., writes from 3205 Polk street, N. P.:

"I have been troubled all my life with catarrh in my head. I took Peruna for about three months, and now think I am permanently cured. I believe that for catarrh in all its forms Peruna is the medicine of the age. It cures when all other remedies fail. I can heartily recommend Peruna as a catarrh remedy."--Mrs. Elmer Fleming.

Treat Catarrh in Spring.

The spring is the time to treat catarrh. Cold, wet winter weather often retards a cure of catarrh. If a course of Peruna is taken during the early spring months the cure will be prompt and permanent. There can be no failures if Peruna is taken intelligently during the favorable weather of spring.

As a systematic catarrh remedy Peruna eradicates catarrh from the system wherever it may be located. It cures catarrh of the stomach or bowels with the same certainty as catarrh of the head.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.
